MANY ARE INJURED

Chicago, June 4.—Under a guard of a hundred police thirty-six wagons loaded with meat left the stockyards this morning for the down town shops and distributing centers of the packers. By the time the caravan arrived in the center of the city it had dwindled to fifteen, stops being made at various places, crowds of people jammed about, but attempted no violence beyond hooting and jeering. One man had his skull crushed by a police club because he refused to move quickly enough.

Many Injured (Special 2:50 p. m.)—Armour and other packers' wagons accompanied by 200 police, delivered ten loads of meat at Madison and Fifth avenue, created a riot. Ambulances called and many hurt.

STATEMENT OF PLAIN FACTS; SENATOR WHITEHEAD'S RECORD

Rock County Senator's Stand on the Question of Tax Measures Is Clearly and Ably Set Forth.

To the Gazette:—Some weeks ago, a prominent business man of this city told me of a conversation which he had had, shortly before, with one of the representatives of the present State administration. That representative had made references to the course of taxation bills and legislation which were inaccurate and misleading. This business man asked me to state briefly what I knew as to the facts; which I did.

A few evenings ago, I called upon this same gentleman at his home. He informed me that he had made use of the information which I gave him some weeks ago, and suggested that I put the facts in brief written form for publication. Upon reflection, I have decided to follow out his suggestion, and, except as stated, I do it wholly on my own responsibility.

The legislative session commenced January 9th, 1901. On January 10th, Gov. LaFollette read his message to the Senate and Assembly in joint session. In the Senate, Mr. Whitehead was made Chairman of the Committee on Assessment and Collection of Taxes, and Mr. A. R. Hall was Chairman of the corresponding committee in the Assembly.

On January 15th, by resolution of Senator McMillin, that portion of the Governor's message, relating to taxation was referred to the Senate Committee on Assessment and Collection of Taxes (Senate Journal p. 60), and, on January 16th, in the Assembly, by resolution of Mr. Hall, that portion of the Governor's message relating to taxation was referred to the Assembly Committee of which Mr. Hall was Chairman.

Mr. Whitehead and Mr. Hall called upon the Tax Commission to prepare bills for introduction by their committees, and for the purpose of providing such legislation as the Tax Commission favored. The bill known in the Senate as No. 94, and in the Assembly as No. 165, relating to license fees, and the bill known in the Senate as No. 95, and in the Assembly as No. 164, relating to ad valorem taxation of railroads, were introduced by Mr. Whitehead and Mr. Hall, in both the Senate and Assembly, on January 30th, immediately after they were delivered to them by the Tax Commission (State Journal, p. 127; Assembly Journal, p. 145).

The legislature had provided a rule to the effect that arguments on tax bills should be made before the Senate and Assembly Committees sitting jointly. The chairmanship of the Joint Committee devolved upon Mr. Whitehead. On January 31st, as soon as the bills were printed, copies were sent to representatives of all the railroads in the state. Letters were also sent notifying the companies that arguments on the bills would commence before the Joint Committee on February 6th. Other tax bills were prepared by the Tax Commission, and introduced by Mr. Whitehead and Mr. Hall, as chairmen of their respective Committees.

On February 15th, the Committee on Assessment and Collection of Taxes in the Senate introduced bills, Nos. 215, 216, 217, 218 and 219, relating to the taxation of sleeping-car, express equipment, freight line, and telegraph companies (Senate Journal p. 237). On the same day, the same bills were introduced in the Assembly by Mr. Hall, Nos. 383, 382, 380, 378 and 377 (Assembly Journal, p. 288).

On April 17th, in the Assembly, bill No. 165, relating to license fees, was reported by a majority of the Committee, with amendments, and with the recommendation that the same be indefinitely postponed. Messrs. Hall, Stevens, and Frost dissented, and presented an extended minority report. (Assembly Journal, pp. 900-909).

On April 23rd various amendments were proposed and voted down, and finally this bill No. 165 was indefinitely postponed in the Assembly. (Assembly Journal, pp. 980-981).

On April 26th, in the Assembly, bill No. 164, relating to ad valorem taxation of railroads was made a special order for May 1st at 10:30 a. m. (Assembly Journal, p. 1030). The Committee was divided in the report on this bill.

On May 1st, this bill came up, in accordance with the foregoing, and was again deferred and made a special order for Thursday, May 2nd, at 10 o'clock a. m. (Assembly Journal, p. 1068).

On May 2nd, this ad valorem bill again came up, at 10 o'clock a. m., and on that day was killed. (Assembly Journal, p. 1088).

Meanwhile, the course of these bills in the Assembly had been watched with much interest, especially by the members of the Senate, where they had been regularly introduced and were awaiting action by the Assembly. After consultation with Mr. Hall, and the Tax Commission, and by agreement with Mr. Hall, on May 2nd at the evening session, after the ad valorem bill had been killed in the Assembly in the morning of the same day, Mr. Whitehead asked and received unanimous consent to withdraw Senate bills, Nos. 94, 95, 215, 216, 217, 218 and 219. (Senate Journal, pp. 888, 889).

On May 4th, Mr. Hall fulfilled his part of the agreement in the Assembly to withdraw bills, Nos. 377, 378, 380, 382 and 383, Nos. 164 and 165 had been otherwise disposed of, as above stated. (Assembly Journal, p. 1138).

Attention is called to the co-operation and understanding between Mr. Hall and Mr. Whitehead, as shown by the above dates. Both of these gentlemen were desirous of carrying out the recommendations of the Tax Commission from the beginning to the end of the legislative session. Nothing was done without the fullest conference and understanding between these gentlemen, their Committees, and the members of the Tax Commission.

The hearings and arguments upon the bills before the Joint Committees on Assessment and Collection of Taxes were continued during the month of March. The primary question and controversy absorbed most of the time of the Legislature during the months of February, March and April. Let us remember that the taxation contest in the Assembly was led by Mr. Hall, one of the best informed and most influential members of the legislature, and that the administration forces were supposed to be especially strong and in control of the Assembly. The Assembly was the popular body, and Mr. Hall doubtless had a wider reputation than any other member. He was particularly known for his attitude toward the railroads and his eagerness to champion measures for increasing railroad taxation. It was evident that the friends of the administration felt confident of their ability to pass the tax bills in the Assembly. After the defeat of the two bills, Nos. 164 and 165 in the Assembly, nothing would have been gained, and something might have been lost in the interests of taxation, by bringing them forward in the Senate. Such are the facts, which I leave to the intelligent voter without further comment.

MADISON MAKING ELABORATE PLANS

Thinks It is an Ideal Convention City, and Wants the Democratic Meeting.

Madison, Wis., June 4.—(Special.)—While Milwaukee papers are howling about the inability of Madison to take care of the coming republican state convention, the local bureau of information, organized to look after this matter, is succeeding so well with its work that it is already going after the democratic convention also, in earnest. Letters written by Mayor John W. Groves and Dr. Clarke Gaven, president of the Forty Thousand club, have been sent to all the members of the democratic state central committee, setting forth the advantages of Madison as a convention city. The committeemen are assured that Madison can easily take care of 5,000 visitors, a much larger number than are likely to attend the convention, and has cared for 10,000 for a longer time; that all expenses of the convention proper will be paid by citizens; that it has, in the university gymnasium building the best convention hall in the state, outside the Milwaukee exposition building, which cannot be had; and an advantage not to be found anywhere else, in the way of headquarters for candidates in the legislative committee rooms in the capitol building, which are not in use except during the sessions of the legislature.

Burgoyne of Edgerton are the principal stockholders. The extinguisher will be manufactured at Edgerton. The quickness with which the fire was extinguished this morning surprised the student assistants in chemistry and the chief of the fire department, who witnessed the experiment.

TRUE IDEAS OF TAX COMMISSION

Movement for Readjustment of the System Not One Man's Plan.

WHAT THEY DID

Senator Whitehead Gives the Third of His Letters on Tax Problem.

SPURRED ON ACTION

Senator John M. Whitehead presents his third letter on the tax commission and its work and duty. The letter is like its preceding—historical in nature—and is a polished account of the true history and doings of the famed commission since its establishment.

Janesville, Wis., June 4, 1902.

To The Gazette: The law under which the present Tax Commission was created contains the following provisions:

"Section 1. In order to secure improvement in the system and an equalization of taxation in this state, there shall be a commissioner of taxation, a first assistant commissioner, and a second assistant commissioner. The governor shall nominate, and by and with the consent of the senate at this session, appoint, as such officers, persons known to him to possess knowledge of the subject of taxation and skill in matters pertaining thereto, to serve ten years from May 1, 1899.

"Section 3. The commissioner shall have a general supervision of the system of taxation throughout the state; shall have power to make a thorough investigation thereof, and shall report to the legislature on the first day of each regular session the results of his supervision and investigation, and shall formulate and recommend legislation for the improvement of the system and for the equalization of the taxation of the state. He shall keep in his office a public record of his acts and orders, and print from time to time, for general circulation, such information as he may deem proper.

"Section 4. In making any investigation, he shall have power to require local officers whose duties pertain to the assessment and collection of taxes, or to the disbursement of public funds, to report to him in form as prescribed by him; to call upon individuals and examine books and papers, to summon witnesses to appear and testify and to produce books and papers before him at a time and place to be appointed by him, and in case of the refusal of any person, who shall thereupon institute proceedings in the proper circuit court to compel such obedience. The commissioner may administer oaths or affirmations.

"Section 6. The commissioner shall be a member of and preside at the meetings of the state board of assessment, and shall lay before the board such information within his possession as in his judgment will assist it in its deliberations.

"Section 7. The annual compensation shall be five thousand dollars, of the first assistant commissioner, four thousand dollars, of the second assistant commissioner, four thousand dollars, and of any clerk or employee in his office, the sum fixed by him; and no person while serving as commissioner or as either of his assistants, or as a clerk in his office, shall hold any other office or position of trust or profit, or pursue any other business or avocation, or serve on or under any committee of any political party.

"Section 8. His postage, stationary and office supplies shall be provided by the superintendent of public property, and his printing done by the commissioners of the public printing.

"Section 9. The salaries of the commissioner, of his assistants and clerks; their necessary traveling expenses and all the other disbursements of his office shall be paid out of the state treasury, as the salaries and expenses of other state officers are paid, and a sum sufficient to carry out the provisions of this act is hereby appropriated."

The commission appointed by Gov. Scofield consisted of Michael Griffin, of Eau Claire; Norman S. Gilson, of Fond du Lac; and George Curtis, Jr., of Merrill. General Griffin had been in Congress, and had large experience in business. Judge Gilson had served for many years as Circuit Judge. Mr. Curtis had been a member of the first commission.

The bill under which this commission was authorized, was drafted and introduced by the Senate Committee on Assessment and Collection of Taxes. The draft of the bill was submitted to the members of the first commission, the attorney-general, and many prominent persons interested in the creation of a commission, before it was introduced in the Senate. After the commissioners were appointed, they studied the law with a view to having any infirmities in it remedied before the Legislature adjourned. The commission was established on a basis quite different from that of any other state, and the work assigned to the commission was intended to be broader in its scope than that undertaken by any other commission. It was not thought that the bill was perfect or that it contained all the provisions for all the equip-

WEATHER FORECAST.
Cloudy, cooler; possibly rains.

THE STRIKE SITUATION

The immediate situation is chiefly controlled by the strike. An early solution of this difficulty would help the market; but at this writing it looks as if no settlement was in sight until after a further trial of endurance. Both sides to the controversy maintain a silence as to the main points at issue, which renders it difficult to arrive at the real merits of the dispute. The demands of the miners are for better pay and for shorter hours. The accumulation of fabulous fortunes, largely through speculation, together with the rewards of legitimate enterprise and ability, naturally stimulates the desire for better conditions in the ranks of labor; where the fact that these big capitalists usually pluck the larger share of their fortunes from the smaller capitalists rather than from the laborer is generally overlooked. On the other hand, in the case of the coal strike, the operators very naturally feel that this is a question of whether the union or the owners are to be masters. So long as this is the issue, there is but one position for the operators to take; and that is to fight it out to a successful finish. Whether recognition of the union is an issue or not, is not made public; but here also is a point which the unions must concede. Responsibility must go hand in hand with power. At present the unions exert tremendous power and practically no responsibility; contracts with them have no binding force, and redress for violation is impossible. The unwillingness, therefore, of the unions to take on the corporate form and assume responsibility is an element of weakness in their cause which only they can rectify. Very likely this is an issue which will play a part in future labor controversies. The outcome of this struggle is of vital interest to the stock market, and an unfavorable issue would probably depress other than the coal shares.—Henry Clews' N. Y. letter.

Mr. Clews has expressed a great truth in suggesting that organized labor should incorporate, so that something tangible may be dealt with. A contract on the part of labor ought to be as sacred as a contract to pay; on the part of capital. Violation of the latter is of rare occurrence, and redress is always found in the courts. Violation of the former is of constant occurrence and there is no redress, because there is no responsible head.

The city of New York is just now having a peculiar experience with her iron workers. The scale of wages has advanced from $2.50 two years ago, to $4.00 for eight hours work with price and a half for the extra hour if they worked overtime. Contracts were taken on this basis, but last week the men walked out, saying that they had no grievance, but that they were ordered to quit.

If there is any justice in that sort of nonsense, it don't appear on the surface. Labor has some rights that should be respected, but when it assumes the roll of a dictator, as it is doing at the present time in various parts of the country, it becomes a monopoly, more tyrannical and unjust than any trust that was ever organized.

The walking delegate and the labor agitator are largely responsible for these conditions. This class of men are the worst enemies that the laboring man has to encounter, and the labor organizations should dispense with their services on short order.

The rank and file of labor in whatever calling, is composed of honest men. Men who believe that the employer is the best friend that labor has, and that he is entitled to honorable treatment and value received for money expended.

These men realize the necessity of making hay while the sun shines. They have discovered that seasons of depression follow seasons of prosperity, with great regularity, and that when hard times come, it is not a question of wages, but simply a question of work.

If labor unions will incorporate, as suggested, by Mr. Clews, and then submit differences to an impartial board of arbitration, instead of going out at the command of some irresponsible agitator, there will be money in the pocket, and more comfort in the home, than under present conditions.

A FAIR WARNING.

Chairman Phillips, of the Milwaukee county republican committee, has notified the democrats of that city, that they are legally barred from voting in republican primaries. Mr. Phillips cites the law which provides that any man may challenge and that the party challenged shall, upon oath state that he voted for the regular republican candidates at the last general election. The penalty provides for both fine and imprisonment.

The governor's organ in Milwaukee attempts to defend the nefarious practice showing how desperate is LaFolletteism. Democrats in Janesville, as well as throughout the state will do well to heed this warning. It might be uncomfortable for them to go on record, with an oath that in many cases would amount to perjury. An effort will be made to protect republican primaries against this class if fraud and interference.

WARDEN McCLAUGHREY

The forced resignation of Warden McLaughrey of the State prison at Waupun, is exciting much unfavorable comment, and the administration is very justly criticised.

Mr. McLaughrey's appointment, which occurred three years ago, was in no sense political. Governor Scofield realized the importance of having an experienced man at the head of the institution, and while he had nothing to do with the selection, he heartily approved of the action of the board in the choice made.

The appointment caused more or less criticism, because Mr. McLaughrey was not a resident of the state and the people of Waupun resented it, because they seemed possessed of the crazy notion that the state prison belonged to the town and local talent alone should be employed.

Time demonstrated that the board had made no mistake in selecting a warden, and three years of faithful service has placed the prison on a par with the best institutions of that class in the land.

Warden McLaughrey was devoted to his work. It so absorbed him that every energy was bent to make the prison a model of perfection. How well he succeeded is a matter of record that has never been questioned, until politics assumed control.

His authority was crippled by interference, and charges of cruelty were instigated to force his retirement. The scheme was successful and the coveted resignation secured. The board of control is said to be responsible, but they should not be held accountable except for weakness. The governor owns three members of the board, and the other two are obliged to do his bidding or retire from the field.

Warden McLaughrey ranks with the best prison wardens in the land, but he was destitute of political influence in Waupun. The state has suffered a loss, but the administration has gained a point and the LaFollette shouters are correspondingly happy.

FAIR MINDED DEMOCRATS

Door County Democrat: If we can't have a Democratic governor, then there are many Democrats who will be very well satisfied with governor LaFollette.

It will be remembered that the paid emissaries of the administration, were quite active last winter in attempting to enlist in every community 25 "fair-minded" democrats to work with the LaFollette forces for the re-nomination of the Gov. The invitation was accepted, and the Door County Democrat, with most of the democratic papers throughout the state, are on the list.

This is especially true of the press that supported Bryan in the last campaign. They realize the hopelessness of the National Cause, but LaFollette with his theories and vagaries fills the bill in many respects, and this class of papers and voters would support him if renominated in preference to a gold democrat.

This is the kind of support on which the governor depends, and his most ardent supporters, who claim to be republicans, are bending every energy to enlist not only fair minded democrats, but every other brand peculiar to the faith.

The conglomeration that attempted to run the Janesville caucuses recently held, was a fair sample of what is transpiring at every republican primary. The better class of democrats refuse to lend themselves to these bull dozing methods. They have some sense of honor, and decency, and more regard for manhood than for an erratic and egotistical governor.

This is LaFolletteism pure and simple. It is as foreign to republicanism as Bryanism is to democracy. The state has tolerated this sort of nonsense for two years and the party responsible for it, has suffered humiliation, but the end is in sight.

The three newspapers of Waupaca, have joined in announcing the candidacy of their townsman, John F. Jardine, as a candidate for Treasurer on the state ticket. They speak of him in the highest terms, and suggest recognition for the eighth congressional district. The Gazette has no candidates below the head of the ticket, in advance of the convention. If Mr. Jardine secures the nomination, he may be assured of loyal support from Rock county.

The fifth ward of Janesville, is strongly democratic, and the fourth is more or less doubtful, but when the right of republicanism in these wards is questioned, so far as their own caucuses are concerned, LaFolletteism has reached a point beyond endurance. There will be a hereafter.

The Harper letter, which appeared yesterday in the interests of LaFollette, will receive the same sort of attention in many quarters as accorded by Mr. Kastner. The people are a little weary of LaFolletteism, and it will require more than a love letter to inspire enthusiasm.

There appears to be trouble in the ranks of labor all along the line. Times are evidently too good. Many people find it difficult to endure prosperity.

If governor LaFollette is renominated, it will be through the aid of democratic votes in the primaries. That might be regarded a republican victory of doubtful significance.

Madison to Omro.

A good deal of this talk about Madison is affection. Here is a typical fling from Omro: "Madison is a one-horse borough, known as the state capital. That town couldn't accommodate a bus load of schoolmarm and do it properly. It is the most slow-going town in the state and couldn't take care of one-fourth part of a state convention.

An old colored preacher was telling his congregation that after death they would probably go to the moon. After meeting one of the best informed of the brethren said to him: "Br'er Jenkins, don't you know that the moon is cold as ice, an ain't got no fire 'tall in it?"

"Br'er Thomas," replied the parson, "ef hit's fire you a-wantin, des keep on in de way you gwine en you can't miss it."—Atlanta Constitution.

The pastor called at a Columbus home the other day, where little Freddie had previously heard his mother say, that the pastor was very successful in saving souls.

"Will you tell me," went on Freddie seriously, "how many souls you got saved up?"—Ohio State Journal.

Theoretically

Osteopathy has for its ideal a body whose bone framework is perfectly fitted and delicately set, whose muscles are carefully attached in their origin and insertion, whose blood is freely circulated in every part of every organ and tissue, and whose nerve force is the assimilating and life-giving principle in the entire body. There is a physiological sympathy between all the different parts of the body, and this sympathy is based upon nerve force. The laws of neural energy furnish the principles on which this uninterrupted sympathy may be preserved, and further based upon the fact that disease whether of the nature of an anatomical lesion or a physiological derangement; may be corrected by an intelligent use of the laws of nature as operative in the human body. These laws of action, reaction and interaction, as embodied in the mechanics, the physics, and chemistry of the body, constitute the broad basis of the science.

Federal Prisoners Released.

Leavenworth, Kan., June 4.—Ten prisoners affected by the United States supreme court decision in the case of former Captain Peter C. Deming have been released from the federal penitentiary and furnished with tickets to their homes.

Detail of the Oldsmobile.

The Oldsmobile is mounted on 28-inch wire wheels of special construction with 24-inch pneumatic tires; has the regular wagon tread of 4 feet 7 inches, and a wheel base of 5 feet 6 inches, all of which insures easy movement of the steering lever, as well as smooth riding over rough, uneven roads.

The body is hung very low (independent of the motor) on rubber cushions, thus eliminating vibration, and insuring safety in making short turns, as well as making it convenient for getting in and out of the carriage.

No reaches are required, as the springs (made of a special design and covered by our patents) that carry the motor and the body extend from the front axle to the casing that encloses the rear axle, thus making a perfectly flexible gear, that will take all irregularities of the road without any distress to the driver, the carriage or the motor.

The front axle is a very heavy steel tube, reinforced and slightly crowned, and having heavy steering knuckles.

The rear, or driving axle, with the compensating gear in the center, runs on roller bearings in a casing made of heavy steel tubing, having two large oval flanges that screw together securely forming the casing for the gear. This construction relieves the driving axle and compensating gear of all strains except the driving of the carriage; the rear wheels are keyed fast to the axle.

The brake, operated by the foot, is very effective, being applied by a clutch band to a flange attached to the driving sprocket; it is powerful enough to slide the driving wheels. There is also an emergency brake, acting directly upon the rear axle.

The steering lever is attached solid to the body, being connected to the front wheels by a spring which absorbs all vibration from irregularities of the road without affecting the rigidity of the steering mechanism.

LABOR PROBLEMS ABLY DISCUSSED

Representatives of the Churches Meet with the Trades' Union in Open Conference.

Assembly hall was well filled last evening with an interested audience drawn there by the open invitation of the Trades Union to the churches. The invitation had been extended so that a better understanding of the true aims and meaning of the labor unions, especially by the church members might be had.

On the platform with J. C. Osborn, chairman of the meeting, were Rev. A. H. Barrington, Rev. W. A. Goebel, Rev. J. T. Henderson, Rev. Robert C. Denison, Rev. James Churn, Rev. Richard M. Vaughan, M. H. Whitaker, Mrs. Gus Baker and R. E. Brennan of Beloit.

Mr. Osborn gave the opening address stating that he was a union man because he believed that he could accomplish the most good for himself, his family and his country by being one. He invited working men to investigate labor unions assured the business men that organized labor stands ready to go hand in hand with them in any movement for bettering the city's interests, urged the support of home industries and the purchase of union made goods and declared that labor organizations should be conducted so as to improve men morally, mentally and physically.

History Repeats

Rev. Robert C. Denison was the next speaker but his address was very brief owing to a severe hoarseness. He declared himself to be in sympathy with the principle for which labor unions stand, the brotherhood of man. He traced the growth of individual rights from the beginning of history when people dwelt in tribes and all authority was held by one man. As time progressed different classes began to feel and assert their right to independence, the philosophers being followed by the artists and the merchants. The industrial history of past two decades is but the carrying out of this growth. The laboring men are awakening to their right to their own life and their own individuality and the day will come when the laboring man will be as free to develop himself as the king. But personal development is not the end of the labor organization. Its goal is not the overthrow of the capitalist but that unity of all men, that harmonious life when men realize that their interests are one. The speaker referred to the fact that labor unions have made mistakes, have sometimes made demands in harsh ways but encouraged them in doing all they could to forward the time when every individual should enjoy the true liberty.

Different Kinds of Work

Rev. W. A. Goebel next spoke making some suggestions which he deemed for the best interests of labor unions. He referred to the fact that laborers work with different objects in view, work in different ways, the hammer that falls to the tune of "by the day" moves more slowly than the one that works to the music of "by the job, job, job." He thought the unions made a grave mistake in demanding the same scale of wages for all carpenters, good, bad and indifferent and that the unions should be more exacting in admitting members. There are some members who are not mechanics and who do not deserve the wages they demand. He condemned the practice of putting a half sober loafer in authority to tell the laboring men when they should strike and urged the unions to put only their best men in power. He urged the laborer to take care of his wages instead of spending them in drink and in closing said it should be the ambition of every laborer to be the best in his line.

Poem Read

M. H. Whitaker read a lengthy article on "What Unionism Is" and a poem which gave his conception of true Christianity.

Rev. James Churn expressed his pleasure at the opportunity to voice his appreciation of what labor organizations have accomplished. He saw in the organization the principles which find their inception in the true socialism of Christ. The organization stands for the brotherhood of men, for the homes of free men who have rights, it believes in honest pay for honest labor and the right of every man to the comforts and conveniences of life.

An Original Paper

Mrs. Gus Baker read an original paper on "The Rights of the Working Man" after which R. E. Brennan of Beloit, spoke as the representative of 1,100 union men in the Line City. He spoke briefly of the labor conditions in Beloit, asserting that that city ranks first in the state for the wages paid per capita.

Rev. Richard M. Vaughan spoke briefly expressing his hearty sympathy with labor unions, his belief in combinations of capital and labor and his conviction that strikes are often necessary and right. He urged the laborers to arbitrate in the spirit of conciliation and friendliness and to remember that the public have rights which must be respected.

Ladies Drill

The next number was a splendidly executed drill by twenty members of the Woman's Union Label League, dressed in white gowns with purple capes. E. H. Winney presided at the piano and the ladies who were in the drill were Mesdames Pardee, Phelps, McKelue, Phelps, Orr, Rehfeldt, Schloem, Winney, Gibbs and Collins and Mesdames Steinhurst, Gehrt, Rist, Klockow, Stark, Funk, McConnell, Hartel, Schmolz and Coughlin.

The program closed with a vocal solo, sweetly sung, by William Garbutt.

Grand Organ Concert.

The memorial organ in the Congregational church will be opened Wednesday evening, June 4th. Harrison Wild of Chicago, organist; Mrs. John G. Rexford, vocalist. Admission 25c. Tickets for sale at Sutherland's book store and at Baker's drug store.

Cleaning Sewers: Street Commissioner Fredericks had a force of men employed yesterday cleaning out the sewer from the foot of Court street hill to the river. The hard storms of late washed the sand and gravel out of the sewer to the entrance to the sewer clogging it up completely. It was necessary to dig up the center of the street in order to get at the trouble. A stream of water was turned in from the nearest hydrant in hopes that it could be washed out. It was found to be clogged up so tightly that it had to be dug out.

POLICE CLASH WITH RIOTERS

Trouble Follows Attempt of Packers to Make Meat
Deliveries.

DRIVERS' STRIKE SPREADING

Men in Charge of Department Store
Wagons Quit Work and Add to the Seriousness of the Situation in the Stock Yards Tangle.

Chicago, June 4.—Continued rioting in the downtown district, demanding the presence of scores of policemen to maintain order, marked the tenth day of the packing-house teamsters' strike. The city was in a turmoil all day, crowds on the street watching for the appearance of caravans of meat with their convoys of police, anxious to be present during the excitement. In one instance fully 6,000 persons watched the police escorting wagons in the heart of the city.

Seven wagons loaded with fresh meats were started at 2 o'clock this morning from Swift & Co.'s distributing barns at Halsted and Division streets to be brought to the South Water street market. Larabee street police brought them to Wells street; the East Chicago avenue force thence to the river; and the Central detail officers guarded them to the big Swift market.

They were not materially molested. The first shots fired during the strike were discharged during the day by a special officer accompanying one of the caravans. William Klier was the first man arrested for shooting with intent to kill. He was driving for Irwin Bros. last evening, was assaulted by unionists near the Auditorium, and replied with his revolver, the bullet wounding Charles Roda, a citizen, 1015 Warren avenue, who was driving past in a carriage.

Attempt to Arbitrate.
Efforts were begun by Chairman F. W. Job of the state board of arbitration to bring the opposing factions together for a discussion of their differences. Representatives of the packers promised to be present at a conference, and President Albert Young of the National Teamsters' union will be asked to meet them.

The first sympathetic strike among other organizations outside the affiliated teamsters occurred when 250 freight handlers at the Rock Island freight handlers at the Rock Island from the packing houses and walked out in support of the teamsters.

Reports that other trades in the stockyards are about to strike in sympathy with the teamsters were denied by officers of the Packing Trades council, who stated that no strike would take place unless an effort was made by the packers to force them to take the places of the striking teamsters, or unless Armour & Co. declined to reinstate four men in Kansas City who were discharged for joining the union.

Fear Federal Troops.
The appearance of 200 negroes in the stockyards to do general teaming for Nelson Morris & Co. caused a commotion among the employees in the yards, who feared the colored men were to take the places of the striking teamsters. They are to be used for general teaming in the yards.

The packers announced during the day that they would start out all their teams, 326 in number, the latter part of the week. This gave rise to a wild and absurd report that the federal government was to be asked for troops and that they had been ordered to the yards. No such request has been made.

Five men were injured during the day in the riots in various sections of the city.

The management of the Fair, after an announcement that the men had been withdrawn by the union from the delivery wagons at the other stores, sought to do as the packers had done, and under an escort of more than half a hundred policemen started two wagons out, loaded with goods.

As a consequence wild mobs thronged about the big store, following the wagons, and the policemen, and offering battle with stones and teaming wagons they had seized and used as barricades. Heads were broken and arrests were made, but within an hour the attempt was abandoned, and the delivery wagons, broken and scarred, were forced to return to the store.

And while pandemonium reigned in the downtown district, minor clashes were occurring in various parts of the city, to the north, west and south.

Riot in State Street

The riot that raged along State street south of Harrison, and east through Harmon court as far as Michigan avenue, during which the first shots fired in the present labor troubles were heard, followed the delivery of a load of meat at the Fair. Its immediate cause was an effort to unload a wagon in front of Bipper's meat market on State street, and the conflict that ensued assumed such serious proportions that reserve details of policemen were hurried from every part of the city to the assistance of the half-hundred men who made up the original guard under Inspector Hunt.

Try in Vain to Deliver Meat.
About 11 o'clock in the morning Nelson Morris & Co. tried to deliver a load of meat to the Transit House kitchen. The wagon was driven by a negro, who left the market of the company, which is 100 feet north of the Exchange avenue entrance to the yards and a half a block from the Transit House, and drove down Halsted street toward the hotel. Cries of "Lynch him," "Kill the coon," and "Hit him with a brick" were heard on every side, and a crowd blockaded the street.

The negro, thoroughly frightened, tried to turn back and after knocking down some of the crowd with his horses he succeeded in getting back. Then David Levy, who is in charge of the market, jumped on the load and kept off the crowd until the patrol wagon arrived. When a search for the negro was made he was found in the basement of the market, hiding behind a row of beef quarters.

Caravan of Meat Wagons.
In spite of the efforts of the teamsters and their friends, who came to their assistance by hundreds whenever an opportunity offered, the packers during the day succeeded in delivering thirty-five wagons of meat in a single caravan. The drivers, under the protection of a heavy detachment of police, were stopped at every opportunity, but they reached their destinations, unloaded their goods, and returned to the yards.

The wagons were driven by clerks, watchmen, and superintendents of the different companies. As the procession passed up Exchange avenue thousands of persons gathered on the runways and walks and watched it, many of them wondering if all would come back uninjured.

At State and Root streets the driver of a laundry wagon tried to drive his horse between the meat wagons. When warned by the police to turn to one side he laughed and whipped up his horse. He was arrested.

The caravan moved to Wabash avenue in Thirty-ninth street and turned north. Handling the caravan on the same principle that crowds are kept from the streets during parades, the police blocked all the streets and experienced little difficulty until Fourteenth street was reached. Turning east to Michigan avenue, and thence on Twelfth street to the Illinois Central freight depot, a portion of the meat was delivered without difficulty.

Then, resuming its line of march, the caravan started for Clark street in Twelfth. Frank Graski, the driver of an express wagon, who attempted to interfere at Cottage Grove avenue, was arrested. At Clark street the wagons were met by a great throng, which increased rapidly as the caravan passed down the street. When it stopped at Harrison street to make deliveries to Irwin Bros. and Magner & Winslow a blockade occurred. Street cars were stopped until a long line extended for four blocks in both directions. Once when the police charged the crowd Isaac Dehan was thrown into a basement at 337 Clark street and seriously injured. He was picked up after the crush had subsided and sent to the County Hospital.

Trucks Form Blockade.
Scores of passing trucks and moving vans attempted to stop the wagons at Van Buren street, but the police, reinforced by a detachment from the Harrison Street Station, blocked the crossings and opened a way for the wagons. The caravan proceeded without further delay to the Fair, where a delivery was made.

It was noon when the wagons started on the return trip. Coming out of the east end of the alley back of the Fair, the police found the street filled with an excited crowd. It extended for a half block in both directions. Thousands of men and women on their way to lunch paused to watch the departure of the wagons. The wagons swept on into the street on a trot and were well on their way south before the crowd realized what had taken place. An angry shout went up, but there was no attempt made to stop the disappearing caravan.

The final stop of the day was made at the market of F. W. Bipper, 275 State street. Two wagons backed up in front of the market, protected by the patrol wagons and the empty vehicles which surrounded them. Another crowd gathered and the police were compelled to charge it repeatedly before an opening could be made through which the wagons could depart. Fifteen men were arrested, nearly all teamsters, and sent to the Harrison Street Station.

At Taylor street a State street cable train wrecked a patrol wagon. Driver Patrick Murphy had two ribs broken.

For piles, skin diseases, sores, cuts, bruises, burns and other wounds, nothing equals De Witt's Witch Hazel Salve. It acts at once, cures, and never again returns. De Witt's Salve has cured since 1851 with protruding, bleeding piles and until recently could find no permanent relief. I tried De Witt's Witch Hazel Salve, which soon completely cured me.

SSS SKIN DISEASES

The skin is provided with millions of little pores and glands invisible to the natural eye, yet through these tiny outlets the larger part of the deadly matter that daily collects in the body is carried off. But nature never intended that poisons of an irritating or acid character should be eliminated through the skin, the Liver and Kidneys being their natural outlets, and it is when these important organs fail to perform their functions that these acid poisons are absorbed into the blood and find their way to the surface of the body through the pores and glands of the skin, producing intense itching and burning, inflammation and swelling, and eruptions of every conceivable size, shape and character.

Skin Diseases differ greatly in their general characteristics and degrees of intensity. Red and angry looking spots break out upon some part of the body with a mass of small pustules or blisters, from which is discharged a clear or straw colored fluid, which dries and flakes off in bran-like particles and scales, or forms into hard and painful sores and scabs. The skin often hardens and dries, cracks and bleeds from the effects of the fiery acids, which the blood is continually throwing off. Pimples, blackheads and blotches are evidences of a too acid blood, which has inflamed and clogged the pores.

Skin Diseases being dependent upon the same causes require the same treatment, which must be constitutional and not external. Nothing applied locally to the inflamed surface can bring much relief. The disfiguring eruptions will continue to annoy and pain you in spite of soaps, washes or powders. There is no hope of getting rid of a skin disease except through the purification of the depreciated blood and neutralizing and filtering out of the circulation all poisonous substances and acids.

The purifying and tonic properties of S. S. S. soon manifest their influence in skin affections; the debilitated system is invigorated and toned up, and the gradual disappearance of the eruptions show that the polluted blood is being brought back to its natural purity and strength. Old chronic skin disorders, which have resisted all the ordinary methods of treatment, readily yield to the curative powers of S. S. S., and there is no reason why the long time sufferer should feel resigned to his fate under the mistaken idea that some skin diseases are incurable, for S. S. S. has cured and is still curing cases perhaps far more desperate than yours. S. S. S. is a purely vegetable remedy, containing no Potash, Arsenic or any of the poisonous drugs which constitute the basis of so many so-called skin cures.

OTTUMWA, IOWA, April 10, 1901.
In 1883 I broke out with Eczema on my head, legs and arms. The Doctors treated me for about two years without giving relief. I next tried various ointments, soaps and washes, but these did me no good. I finally quit taking medicine, as the physician said the disease had become chronic and incurable. Having endured this tormenting malady for about 16 years, I determined to make another effort to get rid of it and began S. S. S. in July, 1900, and continued it until November, when I discovered, to my surprise and joy, that not a spot could be found on my body, which before had been almost covered with the eruption. It has now been nearly a year since the disease disappeared, but not a sign of it has ever returned, and I am satisfied the cure is permanent.

TRUE IDEAS OF TAX COMMISSION

ment that such a commission ought finally to have. It was designed to create a commission that should have sufficiently large powers to plan and execute a comprehensive and thorough work. It was assumed that as experience developed the needs of the commission, and opened up the demands and opportunities for its work, additional legislation would follow.

The commission was created for the assistance of the Legislature. Members of both houses who were interested in the subject of taxation had often been hampered in their investigations of the questions that arose by reason of insufficient experience, the lack of adequate knowledge, the pressure of the daily routine of legislative duty and the hurry with which legislation was pushed through. If a business interest thought it worth while to be represented before a committee of the Legislature, when a bill relating to taxation was under consideration, its representative was usually a person who had his subject well in hand and who was at least a match for the best informed legislator. It was especially designed that the commission should never be political in its make-up, that no political significance should ever attach to the way in which it performed its duties, and that the commissioners should have no part in the activities of political parties, or interest in the outcome of political campaigns. The matter of taxation was deemed of such importance that the commissioners were to treat it in a judicial, non-partisan and deliberative manner, and that everything that tended to self-interest, to partnership, or to haste, was to be removed so far as possible from the make-up of the commission, from its methods and investigations, and from its relations to business, public offices and politics.

General Griffin died in December, 1899. Judge Gilson, thereupon, was appointed commissioner, and W. J. Anderson, who had been private secretary to Governors Upham and Scofield, was made second assistant commissioner.

The work of the commission was summarized in its first printed report, which was ready for the members of day or two before the session opened and laid upon their desks on the first day of the session, January 9, 1901. The Governor read his inaugural message to the two houses in joint meeting, January 10th. His message occupied fifty-three pages of the Senate Journal. He devoted about fourteen pages to his remarks upon taxation, and about one-half of that space he occupied with his reference to and discussion of the Tax Commission. His general comments I will give now, and reserve his recommendations and reasons therefor for future examination:

"The general scope of legislation and the large number of subjects acted upon in each session is unfavorable to the exhaustive examination and consideration of a problem as intricate and complex as the complete revision and codification of the tax laws."

"The creation of a commission to make such investigations as the character and importance of the subject demand, to report to the Legislature the results of its examination, and to make recommendations in aid of just and efficient tax laws, could not fall of public approval."

"Chapter 206, Laws of 1899, authorizes the appointment of a Tax Commissioner and two assistants to the Commissioner, for the purpose of investigating the tax system of this state, reporting thereon to the Legislature, and formulating and recommending legislation."

"Owing to the scope of the work, and the great loss sustained to the Commission in the death of the first Tax Commissioner, General Michael Griffin, I am advised that no complete plan of revision of the tax laws will be proposed in the report made at the opening of the session."

"The disappointment experienced on this account will, I believe, be lessened by the aid which you will doubtless receive from the Commission during the session in remedying the evils existing in some directions, and mitigating, if not wholly correcting, them in others. I would, under no circumstances, urge undue haste in the work of the Commission. It is of the utmost importance to each citizen and every interest, that all the time necessary should be taken and every possible facility furnished to enable it to complete, in a satisfactory manner, recommendations for a revision of the tax laws."

"Every act of government should be fair and just, and no portion of the system which allows certain classes of property to escape taxation, wholly or in part, should be permitted to stand upon the statutes."

"The forthcoming report of the Tax Commission may not offer any recommendations to you respecting amendments to existing laws with a view of equalizing, in so far as may be, the assessment and collection of taxes. Nevertheless, in this work which it plainly behooves you to undertake, you will, without doubt, be greatly aided by the Commission either by further report during the session, or by co-operation with your committees in charge of this subject, in framing, perfecting and legislation to that end. Such legislation may be incorporated in, and made a part of, the final system of taxation and adopted as the law of this state. But, in the meantime, you will have rendered a great service to your constituents by affording the largest measure of relief which you can give them at this time."

"In conclusion upon this point, I desire to say that the Tax Commissioner has extended to the Executive every courtesy with respect to work in his office; but as only the introduction to the report is completed at this time, I am deprived of the valuable aid to be expected from the recommendations of the Commission, which will finally be incorporated therein. I understand that the Tax Commission has devoted much time to investigation, with a view of determining whether the corporations, including railroads, street railways, telegraph and telephone systems, insurance, trust and guarantee companies, taxed by license fee, and express companies, sleeping car, freight line and equipment companies, taxed by a special ad valorem method, are justly and proportionately taxed under existing laws. The facts thus secured, together with the Commission's conclusions deduced therefrom, will I believe, be communicated to you at this session. Not being advised of the results of such investigation, or of the nature and contents of the report, I can, of course, submit nothing with reference thereto."

"I am, however, able to present to you in this connection some information in the form of tables, and notes explanatory thereof, which in themselves may aid in promoting your investigation of the entire subject. These, in connection with whatever you receive from the Tax Commission along the same and other lines, will, I trust, enable you to arrive at an early and just conclusion respecting the many phases of this question. For the tables which I follow I am indebted to the Commissioner of Statistics, who carefully investigated the subject and worked out his conclusions about a year ago. He has recently, at my request, re-examined and somewhat extended his work, and I submit the same for your consideration."

JOHN M. WHITEHEAD.

SENATE PASSES PHILIPPINE BILL

Vote Stands 48 to 30 on Measure Practically as Reported.

CANAL LEGISLATION IS NEXT

Nicaragua Route Appears to Be in Favor with a Majority of Senators, Who Expect Final Action Within Six Days.

Washington, June 4.—The Philippine bill passed the senate by a vote of 48 to 30 as it was reported by the Philippine commission with the exception of a few verbal amendments suggested by the chairman of the committee. The measure had been under debate seven weeks and two days.

The senate divided practically upon party lines, all Republicans present voting for the bill with the exception of Hoar, Mason and Wellington, who voted with the Democrats against it, and all the Democrats opposing it, with the exception of Mr. McLaurin of South Carolina, who voted with the Republicans for the bill.

Mr. Morgan of Alabama, Democrat, voted with the Republicans in opposition to the amendments offered by his party, but fell in line with the Democrats in voting against the bill.

CANAL BILL IS UP.

Nicaragua Route Seems to Have Majority in the Senate.

Washington, June 4.—The Nicaragua canal bill was taken up by the senate immediately after the passage of the Philippine bill and made the order of business. It will continue to occupy the attention of the senate until disposed of. It is asserted that there are forty-one votes for the Nicaragua route and thirty-eight for the Spooner substitute, which directs the president to take the Panama route, provided upon investigation the law officers of the government advise him that a good title can be obtained, and in the alternative to proceed with the construction of the canal over the Nicaragua route. The senators who are most interested in canal legislation believe that a bill can be passed within six days. Up to the present time only four senators have announced an intention to debate the question, Mr. Morgan and Mr. Harris in favor of the Nicaragua route, and Mr. Hanna and Mr. Spooner for the Spooner substitute. Four Democrats, Messrs. Teller, Dubois, Carmack and Bate, are on the list of supporters of the Spooner substitute. The friends of the Nicaragua route will require four more votes to secure a majority. There are nine senators whose position is doubtful and they hold the key to the situation.

NO CUBAN INQUIRY.

House Committee Tables Resolutions to Probe Island Affairs.

Washington, June 4.—The House committee on military affairs voted to table the resolutions of inquiry addressed to the War Department relative to expenditures in Cuba. The action was on party lines, and the Democrats gave notice of filing minority reports. One of the resolutions, by Mr. Goldfogle of New York, called for detailed information on expenditures, etc., during the American administration in Cuba. Another, by Mr. Bartlett of Georgia, asked for information, etc., paid to Governor General Wood. A third resolution, by Mr. Slayden of Texas, asked for a list of officers who had been retired

A Sudden Twinge

Of pain is generally the first warning of an attack of rheumatism. It feels as if the disease were in the bones or muscles, but the real cause of rheumatism is found in impure blood. In order to cure rheumatism the blood must be cleansed of the poisonous impurities which are the cause of the disease.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has been very successful in the cure of rheumatism, because it entirely cleanses the blood from the poisonous substances which are the cause of the disease. It not only purifies the blood but by increasing the activity of the blood-making glands, it increases the supply of pure, rich blood which adds to the vigor of every physical organ.

Mr. R. A. McKnight, of Cadiz, Williamsburg Co., S. C., writes: "I had been troubled with rheumatism for twelve years, so bad at times I could not leave my bed. I was badly crippled. Tried many doctors and two of them gave me up to die. None of them did me much good. The pains in my back, hips and legs (and at times in my head), would nearly kill me. My appetite was very bad. Everybody who saw me said I must die. I took five bottles of the 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and four vials of 'Pelle's,' and to-day my health is good after suffering twelve years with the rheumatism."

The sole motive for substitution is to permit the dealer to make the little more profit paid by the sale of less meritorious medicines. He gains; you lose. Therefore accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cleanse the bowels and stimulate the sluggish liver.
